FLAG DAY

"Sign of a nation, great and strong:
To ward her people from foreign wrong."

"Pride and glory and honor—all
Live in the colors to stand or fall."

"Hats off!"

"Along the street there comes,
A flare of bugles, a rattle of drums;

"And loyal hearts are beating high:
Hats off!"

"The flag is passing by!"

This is Flag Day.

It is the day we give outward observance to that inner, permanent glow, which in lieu of a better name we call patriotism and which feeling is so aptly defined in the lines of that immortal poem:

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead

"Who never to himself hath said,
"This is my own, my native land?"

Richmond will commemorate the occasion with fitting ceremonies under the auspices of the Order of Elks, an organization, which in conjunction with the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other patriotic bodies, carries an evangelistic work day by day and year by year for the preservation of our institutions and the rights and liberties which the flag symbolizes. Governor Frank F. Merriam is to be the guest speaker for the occasion and doubtless he will have a message worth while.

ALL SHOULD JOIN

It should not be necessary to urge our people to join in these ceremonies. They will provide an inspiration for one and all, make us better

Traffic Body Asks For Neon Warning Signs

At the meeting of the Council last evening the Richmond Traffic Safety Council made a request that neon safety signs be installed on San Pablo avenue, of the northernly and southerly boundaries of the city, the same as had been erected in Berkeley. It was stated that the two Berkeley signs cost $406.91 and that the cost for electric current per year would be $75.

The matter was referred to the council as a whole when that body meets as a board of equalization next month.

ASKS FOR STOP SIGN

W. E. Zander of the Rheem Manufacturing company asked for the erection of a "Stop" sign on both sides of Twenty-four at Rheem, as setting the avenue was being used considerably by the industries as a cross-town street, and that the in-

COUNCIL TO MAKE STUDY OF TENDERS

The garbage question is still up in the air.

Bids were received last evening by the Council from the Richmond Scavenger company, the original garbage firm in the city, and Perasso Bros., the holder of the present contract.

Both of the bids were considerably lower than the prices of the present contract, but they are so close that they were referred to the Council as a whole, and the city attorney and the city manager to determine who is the successful bidder.

SAVING SEEN
The present figure for residence of one collection a week is 34 cents per month. The new bid of Perasso Brothers is 30 cents, and that of the Richmond Scavenger company 23 cents per month. It is estimated there are 3,000 places in the city where this rate applies, which would mean that the Richmond Scavenger company has made a cut of $270 per month, and Perasso Bros. $120 a month.

EOTH CLAIM LOW BID
But there are other sections in the bid, which will have to be considered very carefully, and these may possibly determine the final result, although Attorney T. H. De Lapp, representing the Richmond Scavenger company asserts there is no question but that the bid of the firm he represents is the low one. On the other hand, Attorney Leo J. Carroll, appearing for Perasso Bros., stated that to total up each bid, would mean that Perasso Bros. (Continued on Page 8)

Old Saw Given Rebuff As 2nd Saw Is Stolen

The old adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place was proven false by C. F. Smith of 159 Fourteenth street, a local carpenter.

Smith is employed on a building being remodeled at Eighth street and Macdonald avenue. Last week he placed his saw against the side of the building as the noon whistle blew and went to lunch. On his return his saw was gone.

Smith didn't report the theft to police.

Yesterday when the noon whistle sounded, Smith again parked his saw in a convenient spot. Upon his return from lunch, lo and behold, the saw was missing.

This time Smith called police and asked them to find the thief.

Townsend Club Delegates Named

Dr. James Heady was the speaker last night when Richmond Townsend Club No. 1 held its meeting. Dr. Heady also presided over the brief business meeting.

Dr. Heady, Mrs. Violet Klemm, Isaac McGuffin and Mrs. Lillian Heady were named delegates to the Cleveland convention of the order to be held in the near future.

Woman Slain, Two Others Are Under Guard In South S. F.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—UP—Police retraced their steps through the lowlands of a densely wooded area near here tonight in search of Michael Milligan, eccentric poet, chicken raiser and dog track employee, a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Camilla Smith, South San Francisco pet shop owner.

Meanwhile, guards were stationed at the homes of Mrs. Louise Collett and Mrs. George Tiani, whom Milligan assertedly marked for death along with Mrs. Smith because they conspired to cause his second wife, Ann May Milligan, to leave him.

FIRE THREE SHOTS
Witnesses said Milligan fired three shots at Mrs. Smith during a street quarrel. Her body was found near the scene lying in a vacant lot. A. A. Mortes, a nursery man, and two young boys who were playing nearby, said Milligan fled into the undergrowth of a nearby clump of willows.

After setting fire to Milligan's home—only to find he was not there—police began a widespread search for the fugitive which proved fruitless. Members of the posse said they had abandoned the theory he had killed himself.

Earlier, it was reported, Milligan had taken his own life by shooting himself in the woods, but an inch-by-inch inspection of the ground showed no trace of the body.

Two Injured In 2 Auto Crashes In City Monday

Two persons were injured, both severely, in two automobile accidents in Richmond yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Bryan, 16, of 599 Sixteenth street sustained injuries about the head, neck and back when she was knocked down by a truck while crossing the street in front of the Richmond Union high school.

The girl reported that the truck driver stopped, asked if she was injured and drove away. She did not get his name nor the license number of the truck.

George R. Cheney, of 755 South Forty-eighth street, sustained a broken left hand when he lost control of his machine and it crashed into a parked car owned by B. Phillips in front of 193 Espee avenue.

Cheney was treated at Richmond Cottage hospital by Dr. G. M. Bumgarner. His car was badly wrecked. Cars driven by J. C. Clark, 5205 Macdonald avenue and Edwin Bull, 521 Key boulevard, collided at Barrett and San Pablo avenues. No one was injured and damage was very slight.

Police reported that a car driven by Marvin Fanslow, 729 Barrett avenue, crashed into the center station in the subway late Saturday night. Although his car was badly damaged, Fanslow was not injured. He said another car forced him against the station.

In a second accident at San Pablo and Barrett later in the evening, cars driven by Louis Non, of Sacramento and Ernest Bargaini, of 550 Fourth street, were slightly damaged. No one was injured.

SOLON SAYS SLUSH FUND COLLECTED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—UP—Attorney General U. S. Webb, chief law officer of the California state government, threw the support of his office tonight into the muddled state liquor enforcement situation to insure "effective and efficient" investigation of charges of alleged corruption, graft and political favoritism.

Webb said his office was keeping "in close touch" with every move in the situation thus far and stood ready to aid any district attorney who asks for assistance in making an inquiry into the status of liquor enforcement in his county.

NEW CHARGES MADE
It was understood that Governor Frank F. Merriam had called Webb from Sacramento to discuss the situation which developed from revelations of an alleged bribe to enforcement agents in Oakland and which brought Assemblyman Leon M. Donihue into the picture with plans for a legislative investigation.

Donihue today charged that powerful and subversive influences were attempting to wreck the inquiry before it even got started.

Donihue said he had been assured the co-operation of Byron Pitts, district attorney of Los Angeles county in the investigation scheduled to begin there Friday, June 12.

The Donihue move, however, may (Continued on page 8)

Carlson Is Retained By The Stewarts

OAKLAND, June 8.—Thomas M. Carlson, city attorney of Richmond and practicing attorney, announced today he had been retained by Fred E. Stewart, State Board of Equalization member, to represent both Stewart, Lucille in the liquor scandal investigation by the Alameda county grand jury.

His retainer, he said, came from a conference yesterday with Stewart and members of his family.

"I see no reason why Mr. Stewart wants to retain an attorney," he declared, "but as an old friend, I am willing to help him all I can."

Neither Mr. Stewart, his wife nor daughter are charged with any crime, and if the district attorney's office or the grand jury wants to question them, they are available for questioning at any time.

Carlson said he had informed Ralph Hoyt, chief assistant district attorney, that Stewart was remaining in the Oakland office in readiness for questioning, and that both Mrs. Stewart and Lucille are here ready to talk to the grand jury, at any time.

700 Hurt In Collapse Of Grand Stand

BUCHAREST, June 8.—UP—More than 700 persons were injured and an unknown number killed today when the grandstand loaded with 3,000 spectators collapsed during a review honoring the sixth anniversary of King Carol's restoration.

The King, other members of royalty and visiting dignitaries, including President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, witnessed the review but were not in the grandstand.

Amidst screams of the dying and injured, King Carol and his brother, Prince Nicholas, and young Crown Prince Michael led the rescue work. The government issued a communique stating that only three persons were killed, but private sources said that the death toll was at least 24, and it was feared that it would mount as many of the injured were in critical condition.

Approximately 400 injured were removed to hospitals. Many others were treated at first aid stations.

BORAH WILL NOT AID FOE OF GOVERNOR

CLEVELAND, June 8.—UP—The Kansas high command turned on the heat tonight and melted the "stop Landon" movement.

On this—the night before the battle in the Republican national convention—Senator William F. Borah took a walk. He strolled out of the "stop Landon" movement, slammed the door behind him and said he would not join an alliance against anyone.

LANDON ALL THE WAY

He left the "stop Landon" forces broken and disheartened, and followers of the Kansas governor stepped in quickly to deliver the knockout punch.

Scattered through Cleveland hotels the state delegations today began their caucuses. It is in these meetings—not on the convention floor—that the fortunes of battle are decided. Early returns showed it was Landon all the way.

YOTES PLEDGED

Texas pledged all of its 25 votes to him and promised to stand by him in the balloting all summer if necessary.

Massachusetts' delegates came to town, saying Landon would get 27 of their 33 votes.

Pennsylvania caucused tonight and indicated there would be at (Continued on Page 8)

Reduces Cost Of Operating Sheriff's Office

MARTINEZ, June 8.—Using the estimate of the expenses and savings of the 1935-36 fiscal year as a basis, Sheriff John A. Miller today submitted to the board of supervisors the grand jury his tentative 1936-1937 budget which contemplates a $76,693 appropriation.

With only the expenses of June left, unexpended, the sheriff estimates the savings for the first full fiscal year of his office ending June 30, 1936, to have reached the sum of $133,861. This large saving is made in the face of the fact that all the new improvements and equipment installed this year hoisted the expense up considerably, and the savings were affected over and above the cost of both the regular operations and the new installations. Since these will be non-recurring, the sheriff estimates that with ordinary good fortune the years to come may possibly develop as great or greater reductions from the peak years of 1929 to 1935 inclusive.

Installation of a patrol system prevented greater reductions but he has increased efficiency and placed the deputies in the field where they are available also at all times by radio, thus effecting double vigilance and resulting in practically every criminal case in unincorporated territory being solved and cleared up to date.

The 1936-1937 budget also allows quite amply for contingencies.

An amount of $200 for architectural fees is written in for the purpose of getting out a preliminary plan for a new jail which the sheriff hopes to have erected some time in the future.

WORLD PEACE THE AIM OF S. C. CHURCH

BOSTON, Mass., June 8.—An appeal to Christian Scientists to work for the demonstration of world peace, the reading of reports by church officers on the various activities of the movement, throughout the world and sustained demand for the writings of Mary Parker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, marked the annual meeting today of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Election of Mrs. Elizabeth Cadwell Tomlinson of Boston as president of The Mother Church was announced. She succeeds Dr. Frank C. Colby. Mrs. Tomlinson was born in Byron, Wisconsin. After graduating from St. Helen's Hall, a well known Episcopal private school, she received a remarkable healing in Christian Science which brought her into the practice of this religion. She was at one time a delegate appointed by the Governor of Oregon to a conference of women's organizations in Paris. In 1914 she was in London, England, at the outbreak of the World War and did service under Mrs. Herbert Hoover in relief activities.

The addition of 22 new churches and eight new university organizations, making a total of 2751 branches of the Mother Church and 56 college and university organizations, was announced by the Department of Branches and Practitioners.

Approximately 6000 Christian Scientists, representing every state in the Union and practically every civilized nation in the world attended the meeting. The main floor and three galleries were filled within a short time after the church doors were opened, the overflow being accommodated in the original Mother Church where amplifiers were installed.

Introducing the theme of World Peace, William P. McKenzie, for the past year chairman of the board of directors, told the audience, "There is a rising demand in the hearts of men for freedom and justice. Can it be met by fair dealing? This requires self-government, does it not? Instead of battling with others to set them right, let a man become right himself and influence his neighbor by his good example."

Mr. McKenzie designated the way in which peace can be realized, pointing out that "when in a branch church growth has been made to the point that members respect one another and show deference and courtesy, work is done in friendliness. May not a time be coming," he asked, "when in congresses and parliaments good will of this sort will show like harmonies and results?"

Committee Is To Decide Upon Chinese Policy

NANKING, June 8.—UP.—General Chiang Kai-Shek, military leader of the Central China government announced tonight he will call a meeting of the central executive committee to decide China's policy regarding Japanese encroachment on North China and the Canton warlords' demand for vicious anti-Japanese action.

Meanwhile, shore-leave for all American and British navy men was curtailed as Cantonese troops continued northward, professing determination to fight Japan in North China. Crews were ordered to stand by their ships as a precaution against possible disorders.

Twelve divisions of the Central Chinese army were reported in the Tung-Ting lake area and the possibility of a clash was foreseen if the Cantonese troops, estimated to number nearly 200,000, continued their northward march.

Holocaust May Cause Revision Building Laws

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—UP.—Municipal officials moved tonight toward revision of the city's building inspection laws as an aftermath of the second fatal fire in less than a month.

The move for formation of an adequate ordinance to eliminate fire hazards and reduce the dangers of so-called "fire traps" buildings followed Sunday's fire in the Dover hotel-apartments, in which seven persons lost their lives and 20 were injured.

Six of those killed in the fire died when trapped by flames and smoke in a wooden frame building from which a front entrance and two fire escapes were the only means of egress. The seventh, Mrs. Clara Roland, lost her life when she tried to leap to safety.

MAZZA RULED OUT
Just after City Clerk A. C. Paris announced that the time for opening bids had arrived, had opened the Perasso Bros' bid and started to read it. Tony Mazza of the West Side presented a bid. There was objection made as the notice calling for bids stated that all bids must be in the hands of the clerk by 8 P. M. and by a unanimous vote it was ruled out.

An argument ensued, the clock was checked, and found correct and when the opinion of City Attorney Tom Carlson was asked, he ruled that the Mazza bid was "out."

DETAILS OF BIDS
The reading of the two bids then followed, and they were as follows: Perasso Bros.—Private residences, 1 collection a week, 20 cents a month; for each additional collection 15 cents.

For apartments and flats, where a common receptacle is used, 2 collections a week, 20 cents; each additional collection 5 cents.

For apartments and flats, where there is a separate receptacle for each apartment or flat, 2 collections per week, 30 cents per month; for each additional collection 15 cents per month.

Richmond Scavenger Company—Private residences, 1 collection a week, 25 cents per month; for each additional collection 45 cents.

For apartments and flats where a common receptacle is used, 2 collections a week, 15 cents per month.

For apartments and flats where a separate receptacle is used, 2 collections per week, 45 cents per month; for each additional collection 10 cents or more.

LAI D OVER 2 WEEKS

At first a motion was made that bids be laid over for one week, but on the suggestion of Councilman George F. Imbach, who stated he would be unable to be here next week a two weeks' continuance was given.

THANKS COUNCIL

Attorney Clifford Anglin thanked the council for putting the matter up to bids, stating that five years ago he argued for bids, and during that period taxpayers of the city had been saved a large amount of money, and to matter which firm was finally awarded the new contract greater savings would accrue.

WORK IS FOUND
SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—UP.—The State employment service found work for 19,256 persons during May. Roy S. Stockton, director of the state governmental unit reported today.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, June 8.—UP.—Many Hollywood folk, including some of the film players, often are moved to wonder just how the stars started to give certain of their characterizations on the screen.

A great many players in studying their private life, seem greatly miscast in their screen roles.

In contrast to Janet Gaynor, one of the few demure actresses who remains the same off screen, there is Alice Faye, associated with bright lights, striking clothes and the whirl of night life society. Actually, Alice lives with her mother and brothers, and, if not attending a neighboring movie as a summer holiday, likes to loaf about in a pair of slacks.

Such hard boiled screen characters as James Cagney and Edward G. Robinson bear no resemblance to their private lives. Cagney, in private life, is a quiet-spoken young man of sane manner and an avid "day at home." He spends much of his time with his nose buried in the more "book" type of fiction.

Robinson devotes much of a spare time to art collecting. He is an active music patron besides. Both of the actors, although main guns with a flourish about them, appear a little flustered about handling firearms and are in a social circle where flattery more less are considered a part of a primitive past.

Carole Lombard also proves startling example of a dual personality. The "sweet dressed" smile of a perfect lady in high reality is an overgrown tomcat off the screen. Friends who remember a half-fellow-well-met to have difficulty in setting her to formal attire except on occasions.

Another complete reversal of character was scored when Sara Haden served as a "heavy" in a recent Shirley Temple picture.

Sara complains bitterly of continual roles of a cross-dressed "tornery" person.

An excellent example of a villainous role is seen in the performance of John Carradine, mild-mannered Shakespearean actor who was plucked from a Hollywood street and given the lead "heavy" roles in numerous pictures.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Early Action Vital In Coping With Dangerous Pneumonia

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

I HAVE written of the general poisoning in pneumonia being due to the lack of sufficient breathing space in the lungs to obtain enough oxygen. I have told of some of the methods of supplying air containing oxygen. If we begin this administration early, we avoid some systemic poisoning and the consequent injury to the vital organs.

As soon as the blood stream receives enough oxygen the breathing becomes easier. The delirium lessens, the fever drops and the patient is more comfortable. By this method we do not shorten the course of the disease but lessen its severity and avoid much of the serious results. Unfortunately, it is an expensive procedure.

Our local hospitals charge fifty cents an hour for the use of a tent and the oxygen tank and cooling apparatus. As it must be continued constantly for five or six days, the cost mounts. I think that is about fifty per cent less than the general charge, and I doubt that it pays.

Doctor Too Late

The direct application by means of a nasal tube is less expensive and has a number of advantages. The use of anti-pneumonia serum for specific types of pneumonia is very successful if used early. Types 1 and 2 respond very promptly with excellent results if used early. That is in the first 24 to 48 hours. Later than that the results are less successful. It, too, is expensive and is only helpful in these two types. It has no effect on types 3 and 4.

The most important things in all forms of treatment is early recognition and diagnosis. I am impelled to say that most cases of the disease are not seen by the physician till it has been in progress two or three days. Many times the condition does not seem serious at first and is considered only a cold.

I must advise that whenever any of your family is taken with a cold with a little fever, slight cough with pain or discomfort in the chest or side, call your physician and don't make light of the condition.

You may say that the administration of oxygen and serum are too expensive and we cannot consider it. Well, many cases of pneumonia have recovered without them. They are very valuable aids when they are available, but we can always obtain fresh air and lots of it and fresh air contains oxygen.

Air May Be Warm

That does not necessarily mean cold air. Warm air, I repeat, contains as much oxygen as cold does. Heavy furniture that causes stuffiness should be removed. Use a large room with windows and doors open as much as possible with screens to prevent drafts and warm the air as much as possible. This plan will provide much that is needed.

A temperature of sixty-two to seventy is not too cold for a bedridden patient and will keep out too many visitors. I have often seen a room containing a pneumonia patient crowded with four or five would-be nurses and visitors who were using up the good air required by the patient. Visitors are often a serious menace to a sick person.

For some years the physicians at the Bellevue Hospital in New York and the Cook County Hospital in Chicago have been treating many cases of pneumonia by the use of vaccines. It used early the results are gratifying and they are inexpensive. Dietitians to support the heart, with good nursing and control of various conditions as they appear, constitute the modern method of treating pneumonia.

See your doctor early and obey his instructions implicitly.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "After spending an evening together, should the man thank the girl or the girl thank the man for a pleasant time?"—C. B.

ANSWER: After spending a pleasant evening together, either the girl or the man may make some such remark as "I had a grand time" or "Wasn't it a swell evening?" If they are well acquainted, such informality is in order. When a chap takes a girl out for the first or second time, however, it is up to the girl to say something. She may remark, "Thank you, I had a lovely time." Or simply, "I had a lovely time." It is a nice touch with the formality of "thank you."

QUESTION: "The daughter of a neighbor of mine is wearing a diamond ring on her right hand. Can this be an engagement ring?"—Mrs. F. G.

ANSWER: An engagement ring is worn on the third finger of the left hand.

Guide to Charm

Skin Care Needs To Be A Routine

By JACQUELINE HUNT

NATURE gave you a good skin to start with, but it takes a lot of common sense to keep it good! You make your own blemishes. By indications in your diet, by allowing yourself to become lazy and your circulation sluggish, by applying new make-up over old, by leaving make-up on your skin overnight.

Failure to cleanse the skin properly at night is the primary cause of most common blemishes like blackheads, oiliness, enlarged pores and pimples.

Every woman should have a carefully worked out beauty routine for evening that includes a thorough cleansing and toning treatment, and extra attention to any special condition that needs correction.

Brushing your hair should be the first step on your evening beauty program. This brushing frees the hair from particles of dust and dead skin cells, polishes it and arouses the circulation. Pin back off your face and fasten a rubber band around your head to protect the hair while you use your cleansing cream or other cosmetics.

By brushing first, you are sure that any lint or bits of dead skin that may have fallen on the forehead and cheeks are removed when you cleanse your face. Brush your hair first forward and over your head from the neckline in the back, then brush it up and back.

Use a quick-melting cream on your face for its preliminary cleansing. Wipe this off with tissues, repeat if necessary and wash thoroughly with tepid water and bland soap. Rinse with warm and then cool water.

Now if your skin needs stimulating and softening, apply a film of softening cream and take one of the little patters or use your fingertips and go over your skin with swift little pats, working outward and upward from the point of your chin. Pat from the base of the neck up to the hair line. You will find that your hair is tidy and easy to arrange in the morning.

Now brush your teeth, have a quick bath and give your hands their five minute going over and massage with a good hand cream or oily lotion.

When finished with your skin, comb the hair into place and press in the waves and ringlets. Put in a few clips or tiny hair-pins and slip on one of the comfortable little net caps that look like a helmet. You will find that your hair is tidy and easy to arrange in the morning.

Now brush your teeth, have a quick bath and give your hands their five minute going over and massage with a good hand cream or oily lotion.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have a very thin sensitive skin and I find that unless I leave a film of cream on it overnight, it is scaly and red in the morning. With such pampering I can keep my skin soft and in good condition. However, I have heard that cream left on the face overnight will grow hair. Is this so? I have a few fine hairs on my face and I do not want to encourage them."—W. A. E.

No cream or oil applied to the skin can directly stimulate the growth of hair. If one could discover a cream that would grow hair, it would be a fortune. While a few very sensitive skins should have a small amount of cream left on them overnight, the average skin is clearer and lovelier if the cream is wiped away and the skin toned with a mild astringent or cold water.

You should also use a powder base before your make-up to protect your delicate skin as much as possible.

QUESTION: "My eyes frequently look blurred or bloodshot and feel lumpy. My vision is good and I have been told that I do not need glasses. Can you tell me how to make my eyes look and feel better?"—Grace.

Perhaps you are the tense, nervous type of person and your eyes are more easily than those of the average person. Eye muscles also become tired and fatigued. You can relax them as you relax the muscles of the body by exercise. Stretch and breathe deeply several times to relax the entire body. Now close the eyes for a minute. Open them and look straight ahead. Then look to the right and up to the right, repeating several times. Now look up to the right and down to the left. Repeat then blink and rest.

Lace Gives Keynote to New Frocks

By IRENE VAIL

New York — Women like lace therefore designers have done a good deal of practicing on new ways in which to introduce it. The cord laces are good for practical types and there are practical types in lace for mornings, noon and night.

A vivid Chinese red lace skirt in two tiers was shown as an ideal dinner gown for the white haired woman. Judging from the spontaneous applause that greeted this entry at one of the events the idea clicked. It is consistent with the current trend toward vivid color. In the topsy-turvy world of today it's the young things who go in for gray, for black and for purple and the oldsters who come sailing forth in all the brightness of Van Gogh canvases.

The wide-skirted evening gown has long been a favorite. This season gives us the heavy hem, weighted by bands of ribbon, by ruffles, even by flowers.

Skirts so decorated are usually mounted over straight, or relatively straight, slips, which gives them a lovelier transparency and a freer motion. On the other hand, skirts sans the hem decoration and hanging straight, are often seen over foundations ending very happily in what was once called a dust ruffle.

The full skirt, circular or flounced, often suggests an inverted carnation which brings to mind that I must mention the importance of carnations themselves and of carnation themes. The flower was advertised for spring buttonholes, frocks in carnation prints were shown, then a navy suit was accompanied by a carnation hat and accessories in carnation red.

Do Not Save Your Best Desserts for Company Meals

By JUDITH WILSON

DO NOT SAVE your nicest desserts and salads for your bridge parties or occasions when you have special guests. Nothing adds that festive touch to your everyday menus as delightfully as a colorful fruit final course. Economize on the rest of the meal if need be, or plan something that is quick and easy to prepare, but be sure to give a little extra thought and effort to make the salad and dessert appetizing.

Fruit Melange

Get the biggest oranges you can find and cut in halves. With an orange spoon or very sharp knife, cut out the sections free from membrane, then remove all of the thin membrane lining. To the half-sections of orange add diced fresh or canned pineapple, diced pears and bananas or other fresh fruits in season. Douse with a small amount of brandy and fill the orange skins with the fruit. Fill high with meringue, and brown quickly in a very hot oven or under a broiler flame.

Wash pink stalks of rhubarb and dice enough to make 4 cups. Put into an unbaked pie shell of rich pastry. Beat until thick and smooth ¾ cup heavy cream, a pinch salt and 1½ cups sugar and 1½ cup flour mixed. Four over the rhubarb. Bake in a hot oven until the pastry begins to brown, then reduce the heat and continue baking until the filling thickens and becomes glossy.

Lemon Souffle

Sift together ½ cup pre-sifted flour, 1 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt. Cream in 3 tablespoons butter. Add 3 egg yolks beaten until thick. ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1 cup milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of 3 eggs and pour into a buttered baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

Strawberry Cream

Crush 4 cups ripe strawberries and add 1 cup powdered sugar. Mix and let stand 1 hour. Soak 2 tablespoons gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water, then 3 tablespoons boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add to the crushed berries.

When the berries begin to jelly, add 2 cups cream whipped until stiff, folding into the berry mixture. Turn into your prettiest glass serving dish. This makes a delicious party dessert.

Ginger Shortcake

This is quickly and easily made. Blend ½ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks and 1 white and 1/3 cup creamy vegetable shortening. Stir in ¾ cup molasses. Add 2 cups cake flour sifted with the following: 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon and ½ teaspoon cloves. Dissolve 1 teaspoon soda in ¾ cup boiling water and add to the creamed and flour mixture. Beat until smooth and bake in layer cake tins. Cool slightly, put together and top with 1 cup cream whipped and blended with 1 beaten egg white, 3 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon ginger.

A Brother Questions the Unknown Suitor of His Sister

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

A TOO-READY acceptance of a stranger marks one as being too tolerant and careless of consequences. A forthright elder brother writes me of his natural concern over his sister's acceptance of a young man about whom she knows practically nothing except that she is going to marry him. No wonder her brother is disturbed. He has a right to be. But read the letter:

You and Your Child

Silliness May Act as a Safety Valve

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

BILLY and Betty, three and four years old respectively, were playing together "nicely," their mother noted with satisfaction. Such accord was rare between these children.

As indeed it is between the average three and four-year-old until, with time and experience, they learn to share their things. Betty rode a kiddy-car, Billy following after, dragging a wagon. They were making some noise, to be sure, but at least they were at peace. "And that," mother thought, as she refrained from asking them to play more quietly, "was worth everything."

As time wore on, the children tired of play. Betty grew silly pushing over some blocks and beginning to laugh. Billy, quick to enter into the spirit of gaiety, next sent the kiddy-car crashing into the blocks. At this both fairly rocked with laughter.

In the next room mother heard them and thought, "They're getting giddy." But before she could reach the children and separate them, Betty had begun trying some tricks with her voice. "The cock crew," she said in a deep, pompous voice. Then "The cock crew," she spoke shrilly. And finally she whistled. "The cock crew," Billy soon caught on to the game and joined the chorus.

Mother entered threatening. "Stop making all that noise. Stop acting silly, will you?" But something that mother apparently could not understand was prompting them to keep it up. and at the same time they could not stop laughing. Exasperated, mother slapped both children hard and left them bawling loudly. "To teach them a lesson."

What a pity more parents do not understand what silliness means to a child. It is an avenue of release. An escape from boredom. Sometimes this is accomplished by nonsense and laughter; other times, by quarreling and tears. A wise mother knows that silliness acts as a safety valve.

SUGGESTS A SILHOUETTE

Copyright, 1936, by Pathefrida. The black-and-white theme for daytime is reflected in this apron cape costume. The back-dipping cape may be buttoned at the wrists or may be worn open; it complements a short-sleeved frock with ruffle of stitched white organdy.

Why Do Parents?

"It would be funny if it wasn't sad and I am wondering why parents permit this sort of thing to go on in their homes — strange boys coming and going, mixing up with their daughters and possibly planning mischief that can never be straightened out."

"These too-suave young fellows always excite a suspicion in my mind because I know most honest young men are not overly prosperous and they cannot entertain girls in costly restaurants and road houses."

"The salaries of middle class youths permit of no great goings-on. I have insisted on a show down in the case of my sister. She raves about this young man morning, noon and night but when I ask her who he is or where he lives or how he earns a living she seems indignant. In the event that there is a runaway marriage in our family I might consider to think of the revelations that might follow."

"I do not even know that this young fellow can support himself. My sister says I am too old-fashioned, that people do not look into other people's private lives anymore."

This seems to me to be tommorot, especially when there is a possibility of such a person becoming a member of the family.

"Do you suppose woman are so desperate for men that they will take anything that comes along? I should hate to think that about my own sister."

Talk It Over

"I am five years older and have acted as her adviser. It is beginning to occur to me that she only wants advice when it fits in with her own schemes. The minute I become a 'no' man she has no use for me or my suggestions.—Elder Brother."

"I don't think you should ask the young man his intentions. But since he is practically engaged to your sister I see no harm in talking with him. It will be essential to have yourself well in hand. A belligerent attitude will get you nowhere. Women invariably fight to a finish for the underdog and have a mania for fighting lost causes, even their own."

Try for a man-to-man chat. Make him understand that your sister means too much to you to pass her hand over to a man in whom there is a shadow of doubt of his ability to support her.

The same subject, the negligence of the family to look into the eligibility of the men who devote themselves to the daughters of the house, was discussed in this column very recently. I have already aired my views on the amazing lack of concern families, and the girls themselves, have in the status of the suitor.

Where and how he earns his money and how much he earns are not questions an upright young man will resent.

I do hope to impress you, however, with the importance of having yourself well under control before you go into these matters. If he feels active antagonism he is going to meet it in kind. There is very often a very definite antagonism between a devoted brother and a devoted lover. It's too bad but it's there never the less that ingrained jealousy of one male of another who comes prowling around his domain.

You must lean over backwards to be fair, otherwise you will only succeed in forcing your sister into this man's arms. Its none of your affair what it is that she does see really, your job is to satisfy yourself that he is a good citizen on the up and up with your sister.

Mrs. Martin will be glad to answer in this column every question of general interest. Mrs. Martin cannot reply individually to every correspondent. Names will not be published. Address her care of this paper.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. You will know how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

collapse from poverty before it gets well under way. Donihue has only $1,000 to spend, the balance of a legislative appropriation for a state audit investigation.

STORY INVESTIGATED

At today's session of the Alameda county grand jury, investigating the alleged payment of $500 by a Niles tavern keeper to agents of the State Board of Equalization, new and sensational developments were brought forth.

The tavern keeper's story brought E. G. Bernstein, R. G. McGill and Michael Connolly, former agents for the equalization board, and Elwood Squires, assistant secretary of the board, before the jury. Testifying in today's session, Squires said after rumors of the bribe payment reached Sacramento headquarters, Richard E. Collins, equalization board chairman, and he conferred with Attorney General Webb.

URGED TO REPORT

The State's veteran legal adviser told them to inform District Attorney Earl Warren of Alameda county, where the alleged bribe incident occurred.

"I urged Webb's advice be carried out, but Collins decided against it," Squires testified.

TWO DROPPED

Squires said that after consultation with Stewart it was decided to ask the resignations of Connolly and Bernstein. Both were dropped but Bernstein later was reinstated.

Connolly, following Squires before the jury, had a different version for his virtual dismissal. He said he had recommended revocation of licenses of three gasthous taverns because they had served drinks to a 14 year old girl. After his recommendation he received a telephone call saying he would be out of a job within 30 days if he persisted in his action. Twenty-seven days later he was asked to resign.

HICKMAN NAMED

The former Oakland district administrator, said he told George Hickman, justice of the peace at Albany and attorney for the tavern, about his resignation and that Hickman promptly called the innkeepers and told them their licenses would be reinstated.

While Squires and Connolly were placing their stories before the grand jury, Assemblyman Donihue was charging that the State Board of Equalization was collecting a $1,500,000 slush fund through assessments on liquor dealers to help finance an initiative amendment sponsored by the board. The amendment would separate tax and liquor enforcement duties, create a new liquor board, and continue present equalization board members in office beyond the terms for which they were elected. It also would increase their salaries.

Donihue said the amendment was being pushed by "members of the board, by Mrs. Helen Werner and by Arthur Samisch." Mrs. Werner is a Los Angeles political figure, previously named in Donihue charges as having been given virtual control of the enforcement board's work south of the Tehachas although she is not a member of the board. Samisch is a San Francisco public relations expert.

east 40 votes for Landon on the first ballot and that he would pick up strength on all other roll calls.

MOVEMENT JOLTED

New York also met with the prospect of promising Landon a minimum of 40 of its 90.

The developments and Borah's "olt jarred the 'stop Landon' forces" to their heels. They had counted heavily on Borah, hoping he would be their general in the hard fighting ahead.

FIGHTS ALONE

But he got off the train today still the same old Borah—still wanting to fight alone rather than with allies, the same Borah who retired to his tent in the 1932 election, refusing to work for either Hoover or Roosevelt.

Hardly was he settled in his hotel room than he was off the "stop Landon" reservation and galloping along on errands of his own.

But if Borah refused to aid the stop Landon movement, he also declined to give aid and comfort to the followers of the Kansas governor. Instead he put one foot up on a chair in his hotel suite and demanded that Landon give Republicans his views of the money question, industrial monopoly and foreign policy.

REPLIES TO BORAH

LAWRENCE, Kansas, June 8.—UP—Gov. Alf M. Landon tonight used the traditional gubernatorial address to the University of Kansas graduating class for a message, as if in answer to questions asked at the Republican national convention by Senator W. E. Borah.

Landon's speech, however, was written before the Idaho Senator demanded of him a statement on his views on monopoly. In it, Landon predicted for the graduating students a road ahead "stretching upwards toward the goal of America's destiny. This road avoids the tyranny of monopoly and economic dictatorship on the one hand and the bondage of bureaucracy on the other."

"We, the people" must overthrow the tyranny of monopoly and economic dictatorship in all fields of honorable endeavor, if we are to escape the shackles of bureaucracy in governmental life. And only by overthrowing the one and resisting the other shall we be able to open again and keep open the gate of equal opportunity now and in the years to come."
